SAUGATUCK—Approximately 1,125 customers of Consumers Power Co. were without electric service Monday night after an auto backed into a power pole along Lucy St. at 8:07 p.m., knocking down wires and tripping a circuit breaker in a power substation.

Consumer power division manager in Kalamazoo, Bill Holtgreave, said all but 150 customers had power restored within 50 minutes. The remaining customers were without power for 3½ hours until service was restored at 12:30 a.m. Tuesday.

Turn Down Liquor In Holland

Total Vote in City
Is 81.7 Per Cent;
Defeat Proposal C

A liquor-by-the-glass issue in Holland city lost by 128 votes in Tuesday's general election. The vote was 4,771 no to 4,643 yes in Holland's 14 precincts.

The issue carried in the Ottawa county portion of the city, 4,133 to 3,890, but this majority was offset by the two precincts in Allegan county which voted 881 no to 510 yes.

Initiatory petitions had been brought by Holiday Inn of Holland.

Response in Holland city was considered exceptionally good in Tuesday's vote with a total of 9,945 votes cast, or 81.7 per cent of the total registered vote of 12,175. State predictions had called for a 60 per cent response.

Proposal C, the anti-parochial amendment which spawned the most interest locally, was defeated in Holland city, 5,254 to 4,264. The yes vote in the Ottawa portion was 3,816 to 4,301, and the Allegan county portion was 448 to 953.

Nor did proposal B, the 18-year vote, receive much local encouragement. It was defeated in Holland city, 6,300 to 2,965.

Proposal A, the $100 million housing bond issue, was even more roundly defeated in the city, 7,117 to 3,036.

to increase the Hawks lead to 12-6. Yoak passed to Busscher for the conversion to give Hamilton a 14-6 advantage at the half.

The Hawks scored their final touchdown with 8:33 left in the contest on a five yard wedge by Boeriger. Kraker ran for the two points.

Kraker helped out in the rushing department as he bulled his way for 71 yards.

An interesting statistic points out that the Hawks have held all their opponents to only 12 points in the second half while scoring 104 themselves which is the sign of a fine football team.

Hamilton will seek a share of the league championship next Friday when they host Middleville.

COMSTOCK — Roger Boeriger rushed for 168-yards to lead Hamilton's fine football team to a 22-6 victory over Comstock Park here Friday night.

The win ups the Hawkeyes mark to 5-1 in the O-K Blue Division and 5-1-1 overall while the Panthers are 0-4-1 in the loop and 0-5-1 for all games.

Hamilton completely dominated action from both ends of the field as they totaled 390 yards to only 156 for the losers.

A pleased Coach Wayne Tanis stated, "Dick Lampen, Doug Koopman and Tom Boerman were outstanding for us on defense while Boeriger and Ted Yoak looked good on offense."

Comstock scored the games first TD on a one-yard run by Dave Hendee on the first play in the second period to take a 6-0 lead.

Hamilton added its first of two touchdowns in the second quarter on a four yard dash by full-back Randy Kraker. Boeriger ran 33 yards to set up the score.

No. 1 Northview Outscores Chix

ZEELAND — The Zeeland Chix struggled fiercely Friday evening as they scored 30 points against 56 for Northview, the top class B football team in the state.

Zeeland's surprisingly high score was mainly due to the outstanding offensive work of Joe Raterink — gaining 127 yards, Bruce DeJonge — gaining 50-yards, and Dick Camps — gaining 45 yards.

Scoring for Zeeland with 2:46 in the first quarter gone was DeJonge on a three yard run. Jeff Flaherty kicked the extra point.

Raterink plunged two yards for a touchdown with 1:13 left in the second period with Rick Brinks kicking the extra point.

In Zeeland's only touchdown of the third quarter, Raterink ran 45 yards to the goal line for another score.

With only seconds remaining in the last quarter, Camps latched on to a 10-yard pass from Brinks for Zeeland's final touchdown of the game. DeJonge kicked for the extra point.

Northview's first touchdown of the game was on an one yard plunge by Tom Schueller. This was followed by a 53 yard run by Warnelo.

In the second quarter, Steve Moerdyk charged three yards for a touchdown.

The third quarter brought two touchdowns for Northview as Schueller went in one yard and Warnelo ran 23 yards for another touchdown. Moerdyk ran three yards for Northview's first touchdown of the fourth period. Then came Schueller again, this time on a 75 yard punt return. John Young scored Northview's last touchdown.

Zeeland put up a tremendous struggle in the first half as they held Northview 20-16. But the tide turned as Robert Brammer of Northview recovered a Zeeland fumble and went in on three plays to score. From there, Eric Trasky of Northview, recovered another Zeeland fumble. This was followed by six plays and a second touchdown which "broke the game wide open."

Zeeland's record for the season now stands at 3-3-1 while the No. 1 Wildcats are 7-0. South Christian will host Zeeland next Friday.

'Hallelujah' Examines Death, Identity and War

An austere but flexible stage proved an appropriate setting for the Hope College Theatre's production of the Yugoslav drama "Hallelujah."

Nikola Koljovich, visiting professor in Eastern studies on the college campus, translated the play by Djordje Lebovich.

The austerity reflects the condition of the former concentration camp prisoners recovering their physical health in post-war hospitals while attempting to take up the business of living again after years of being "dead" men.

To take up their roles as living, "free" men, they ironically use death—the condition of their last few years—as the means.

During war individual human life becomes meaningless. Mass graves receive the dead. The funeral director in the play complains that nobody wanted his services or the use of his silver hearse. The individual loses identity as his death goes unnoticed.

The action of the play concerns nothing more than the death of a patient and the execution of the others' decision that he should have a funeral and not be dumped in the hospital's mass grave.

There is much more to be seen than that, however, for the patient's struggle to give the dead Yoyo a burial when there are no coffins, no hearses and no priests becomes the focal point of their personal struggle to become "living" men with a personal identity.

Yoyo means nothing to them for himself. He was a crazed vegetable that none of them hardly knew. His death is a hard blow, for some had held onto the promise of liberation that no one would die again.

Their demand for burial is a demand for respect, an attempt to reestablish their identities and regain human dignity.

When the patient Zero taunts his fellows saying "We are all dead men," the reaction is fierce because the others are aware that it is true for they lack identity.

Death is the focal point of the play. It opens with a dead man alone on the stage and it ends with him also. Death in war is not regarded the same as death in a "living" world.

Growing Through Worship
Isaiah 6:1-8

By C. P. Dame
Some churches are putting more emphasis upon the order of service, seeking to improve it, and thus make the service more worshipful. People are not all alike and hence some like one kind of worship, others another kind. The spirit of the worshipper is most important. I. God deserves our worship. Isaiah is known as one of the greatest of Israel's prophets. Uzziah, the king who had ruled for many years, died as leper. The prophet admired the king who began well but who could not take success and fell into a sin. The nation's throne was sin. The nation's throne was empty. With a sad heart Isaiah entered into the house of God to worship. The word "worship" comes from an old Anglo-Saxon word, meaning "worship"; God is worthy of our worship. Many believe in worshipping God regularly.

Sometimes a worshipper has a special experience which makes a strong impression upon him. This happened to Isaiah. Can you recall some religious experiences recorded in the Bible? Isaiah saw an occupied throne; above it "stood the seraphims, heavenly creatures, and each one had six wings, with twain he covered his face, and with twain he covered his feet, and with twain he did fly." Four wings were used to express reverence and two for service to fly. The seraphims proclaimed the holiness of God; the word holy was repeated three times. The pillars of the temple shook at the voice of God. Everything the prophet saw spoke to him of the glory, power, majesty and holiness of God.

II. The prophet confessed his sin. "Then said I, Woe is me! for I am undone, because I am a man of unclean lips, and I dwell in the midst of a people of unclean lips. 'The prophet was conscious of his own sins and also of the sins of his people but he did not blame society for his sins. 'Then flew one of the seraphims unto me, having a live coal in his hands, which he had taken with the tongs off the altar' and laid it upon the prophet's mouth and told him that his iniquity was taken away. Contrition was followed by confession and confession by cleansing, involving forgiveness.

III. God is pleased when any one responds to his call. When the prophet heard the words, "Whom shall I send and who will go for us?" he answered "Here am I, send me." God keeps on calling for workers even in this day of much confusion. A call can be refused or accepted. What if the prophet had refused? Since the response of Isaiah, many young men and women have responded to God's call to service and they serve in all parts of the world.

Facts on Lake Pollution Told to Literary Club

Members of the Woman's Literary Club found out "What In Our Lake?" at their Tuesday afternoon meeting in the clubhouse. A luncheon at 12:30 p.m. in the tearoom preceded his talk.

Dr. Williams, associate professor of chemistry at Hope College and coordinator of the Hope College Institute of Environmental Quality gave some amazing facts and figures about Lake Macatawa, Black River and Lake Michigan, showing the sludge at the bottom of Lake Macatawa which sloshes into Lake Michigan without actually being cleansed of the organic materials.

He said the polluters are actually a heavy domestic load of organic materials. The sewage treatment plant and septic tanks contribute their share of the waste material going into the lakes.

Preliminary steps have been taken by several of the factories and industries which dump pollutants into the lake and river.

Dr. Williams is encouraged by the public consciousness of the problems and the attention being given to the problem by radio, television and newspapers. A public seminar the weekend before Tulip Time last May attracted about 400 people.

Educational courses in Human Ecology are being scheduled on various college levels. Dr. Williams said a course he is teaching on Science and Human Values is gaining momentum.

During the summer and with grants to give researchers a cushion to work with, Hope College has come up with many facts and figures. Research on the watershed began in 1962 and continues. Bacteria count in the ditches and the lake is taken periodically from samplings but it takes more than "grab and guess" to come up with the potent figures.

The water from Lake Macatawa sloshes into Lake Michigan through the channel every 20 minutes.

MATH ROOM MESSED UP — Fallen plaster and flooded floors marked damage in room 38 of the east unit of E. E. Fell Junior High School after a two-inch water pipe ruptured overhead in the third floor attic early Saturday morning. The pipe on the floor was carried in afterwards. Students were meeting in room 8 Monday instead of in this room.

Classes Resume After Cleanup

Classes in the east unit of E. E. Fell Junior High School were back to normal Monday following a broken water pipe in the third floor attic early Saturday morning which drenched several classrooms from the third to the first floors at the south end of the building.

Hardest hit was room 38 housing math classes of Miss Vida Harper located directly under the broken two - inch pipe. This room was not in use Monday and the seven classes were moved to room 8. The teachers lounge for women also was moved elsewhere along with one room for the speech correctionist which was pressed into service for a drying room.

When the break was discovered Saturday morning, all available maintenance equipment and personnel were pressed in to service along with a number of volunteers headed by John Weeber, chairman of the buildings and grounds committee of the Board of Education, who led the crew barefooted. Commercial cleaning firms also were called. Large water vacuums proved most effective in the mopping - up.

The pipe which ruptured on the eve of Halloween was not the first time such a break occurred. In 1963 a similar pipe on the north end of the building sent water coursing down to the school library, damaging many books. Another such instance occurred a few years ago in the Washington elementary building. Junior High was built in 1923 and in that era main plumbing pipes were installed under the roofs.

While flooding was extensive, damage was probably less extensive than at first believed. Remaining plaster on the ceiling of room 38 will probably be pulled off and engineers are checking floors for possible buckling. Paint has been peeling and some redecoration is slated later.

The outdoor - indoor carpet in the teachers' lounge was flooded, but use of the right equipment seemed to restore the floor covering to proper use.

There appeared to be no students' classrooms in desks in the drenched classrooms. Books are kept in lockers (or carried home for homework).

No estimate of the damage was available.

Century Club Hears Review By John Noe

"A Nation in Torment: The Great American Depression 1929-1939," a book written by Edward Ellis is becoming a popular history of the Great Depression, John Noe said, in presenting his review of it before Century Club members Monday evening at the Hotel Warm Friend.

Mr. Ellis, who enrolled in the University of Missouri in 1929, experienced this period of history. After making his way through college he became a reporter and interviewed many of the personalities mentioned in the book.

Mr. Noe said the beginning of the crash was the demise of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in May 1929. From that date the book relates the story of the holding companies and the huge losses suffered by the investors.

The author's idea of a cause of the crash is that greedy people wanted more than they needed. Foolish people thought they could get something for nothing. The impulsive people thought they could buy now in the hope of paying later. The income and wealth was distributed unfairly and dangerously, the reviewer said.

Most of the audience could remember events such as the soup kitchens, Bonus Marches, the great Western dust storms, the RFC and Babe Ruth's holding out for $80,000 salary.

After Franklin Delano Roosevelt was elected the government began taking responsibility for the people by enacting certain social reforms such as the CCC, the WPA, the Blue Eagle and the NRA.

Mr. Noe ended his interesting report by quoting from "The Tale of Two Cities," by Charles Dickens: "It was the best of times, it was the worst of times, an age of wisdom, and an age of foolishness."

Mrs. John Hollenbach presided at the meeting and announced that the Hope College Trio would provide the December program. Mr. and Mrs. Russell Klaasen served as chairmen of the arrangements committee.

4,000 Fans Turn Out For Holland Game

Halloween isn't until tonight but the Holland High Dutch football team must have felt Friday night that the masters of witchcraft arrived on the scene too soon at Riverview Park before 4,000 fans on a beautiful evening of football.

Grand Haven took advantage of a blocked punt, fumble and pass interception to set up all of its touchdowns to defeat the Dutch, 19-6 as lady luck was on their side.

With the victory, the second-rated Bucs remain in contention for the number one berth in the Class A polls. The win gives the Bucs a season record of 7-0 and stops Holland's winning streak at three games. The Dutch are now 4-3 for the year.

Coach Constant of Grand Haven continued his hex over a Coach Dave Kempker team as the Bucs picked up their fifth win in six attempts against Kempker's club at Holland.

The Dutch looked like they were planning on a little trick of their own in the first period as they held Grand Haven scoreless but they started to treat instead in the second quarter which led to their downfall.

Defensive end Mark Schroeder set up the Bucs first score by blocking a Holland punt on the 19 and Grand Haven promptly marched down to score its first TD on a three-yard run around left end by Gary Constant, son of the coach. Gary Engle kicked the extra point to give the Bucs a 7-0 lead.

Holland came right back to notch its only touchdown on a sharp nine - yard pass from quarterback Tim Matchinsky to end Steve Ver Beek.

Matchinsky set up Holland's score by scooting 46 yards with a pass interception to bring the ball to Grand Haven's 24-yard line.

The first half ended with Grand Haven holding a slim 7-6 bulge over the determined Dutch of Coaches Kempker, Ray Backus and Clyde Line.

Holland's defensive team played an exceptional first half as they held the Bucs to only 28 yards rushing and two first downs while picking up 33 yards on the ground themselves and 41 in the air to dominate the statistics at the intermission as they held the Bucs to no yardage in the air.

Grand Haven's defense proved why it is one of the state's toughest at the outset of the third period as Tim Prowell recovered a Bill Wood fumble on the Dutch 11.

A delay game penalty moved the ball back to the 15 where Constant hit Pat Hood on the halfback pass for a 12-yard pickup to the Holland three. Constant tallied his second TD on the following play on a pitch out from quarterback Brian Vining. The extra point attempt was no good but the Bucs enjoyed a 13-6 cushion.

Ted Linjer intercepted a Matchinsky pass on Holland's 31 to set up the games final tally as once again a Dutch miscue proved costly.

It took Grand Haven five plays to do it but Vining hit Hood on a 15-yard pass for the six-pointer. Rick Crace broke through to block the extra point kick with 6:19 to play in the game.

With the Dutch down by a 19-6 score in time running out, Holland was forced to go to the air without too much luck against the talented Grand Haven defense led by Schroeder and Rowell as on two occasions, the Bucs took over deep in Holland territory but failed to score against the rugged Dutch defense led by Doug Morse and Rick Van Tongeren.

"We just made too many mistakes to win and anytime you have to put the ball in the air on almost every play you're taking a great chance of the opposition scoring," said Kempker.

The Dutch will be attempting to get back on the winning track next Friday night when they play at Mona Shores.

GREAT INTERCEPTION — Tim Matchinsky (14) Holland High's fine quarterback and defensive halfback comes up with the defensive gem of the game for the Dutch in the second quarter of its game with Grand Haven Friday night at Riverview Park by leaping high in the air to intercept a Gary Constant pass. Matchinsky made the interception on Holland's 30 and raced downfield to the 24 of Grand Haven to set up the only touchdown for the Dutch. Terry Marlink (22) of Holland is shown on the play with an unidentified Buc player. Grand Haven defeated the Dutch in a defensive struggle, 19-6.

Greg Voss Breaks Hope Rush Mark

ADRIAN — Hope College's football team won the battle but lost the war here Saturday to surprising Adrian College.

The Flying Dutchmen of new Coach Ray Smith completely dominated action throughout the contest as they ran 94 plays to only 50 for Adrian, rushed and passed for 165 and 147 yards respectively compared to only 112 yards rushing and 144 passing for Adrian.

Somehow the Bulldogs defeated Hope, 21-7 to knock the Dutchmen out of the MIAA title picture.

Adrian's win gives them an overall record of 5-2 and assures them of its first winning season since 1948 when they finished with a 4-3-1 mark and more important gives them a shot of tying Alma for the league championship Saturday when they play at Albion.

Alma tied for the loop championship Saturday by downing a stubborn Kalamazoo club, 29-21 while the Britons stayed in the thick of the race with a 17-13 win over surprising Olivet.

The Scots finished the league season with a 4-1 record with Albion and Adrian close behind with 3-1 marks and Hope fourth with a 3-2 slate. The Dutchmen were 2-3 in the MIAA last season under Russ DeVette.

Adrian took advantage of a fumble and two interceptions to down the Dutchmen and a disappointed Smith said after the game, "we just gave it away as we are the type of team that can't afford to make many mistakes because we lack the long break-away runner and long pass to get back in the game quickly."

"Even though we dominated the statistics, we played like a Model T Ford, as we just couldn't push it into the Bulldogs end zone. We moved the ball as good as anyone but for some unknown reason, we can't punch it over," stated Smith.

Greg Voss, Hope's brilliant tailback continued his fine running as he galloped for 142 yards on 37 carries to run his season's total to 925 in eight games to break the single season record held by Nate Bowles set in 1968 of 837 in nine games.

Groy Kaper, Hope's fine field general, was playing one of his finest games ever in the first half as he directed the Dutchmen to a 7-0 lead with his deadly passing and clutch play calling on third down.

Kaper finished the day by hitting on 15 of 28 passes for 143-yards but had two intercepted in the second half with one resulting in six points for the enemy.

Freshman end Mary Meyer and junior Jim Lamer grabbed six and four passes respectively for Hope.

Hope's rugged defense held Ron Labodie, Adrian's top runner and the MIAA's second leading rusher behind Voss, to only nine yards rushing in the first half but the fast moving Labodie picked up the tempo in the final 30 minutes by rushing for 68-yards in two touchdowns on runs of three and 24 yards.

Doug Smith's fake punt run of 23 yards to Adrian's 22 set up Hope's only TD of the afternoon. Three plays later Voss went in for the touchdown on a four yard run to give Hope a 6-0 lead with 7:26 to play in the first quarter. Mike Hinga's kick made it 7-0 as it looked like the Dutchmen were going to run up a high score.

With Smith calling the shots from the bench like Paul Brown does at Cincinnati by alternating fullbacks Bob Haveman and Chuck Brooks, Hope was marching up and down the field without too much trouble but when they got close to the Bulldogs end zone, Adrian's defense would rise to the occasion by stopping the Dutchmen short of their goal.

Adrian came up with the big play with six minutes to play in the third period on a fourth and 15 situation on Hope's 24 by sending Labodie up the middle on the draw play and the speedy Adrian back scooted the 24 yards for the first TD of the day for the Bulldogs. Vic Wolven booted the extra point to tie the game at 7-7 and suddenly Adrian was back in the game even though the statistics would prove otherwise.

A Hope fumble set up the winning TD for Adrian as quarterback Tom Bell hit end Jim Wallace on a 43-yard pickup on the following play as Adrian moved to the 17 of Hope.

Two plays later Labodie went over from the three and Wolven's kick made it 14-7 in favor of Adrian early in the fourth quarter.

Dave Zimmerman intercepted a Kaper pass on the 36 of Hope and sprinted in for the TD to kill off any chances Hope might of had in winning moments later. The PAT closed out the scoring at 21-7.

The Dutchmen (4-4) overall will be seeking to finish their season above the .500 mark for the first time since 1963 when they close out their season by playing host to tough Taylor University Saturday at Riverview Park on Parents Day.

West Olive Celebrates Post Office's 100th Year

The West Olive Centennial celebration for the community's post office began Sunday and continues through Saturday when a centennial program at the Port Sheldon Town Hall will cap the week's activities.

Mrs. Anne Polich, postmaster for the community, is chairman for the celebration. Daily at the West Olive Post Office this week she holds open house with refreshments from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. except Saturday when the hours will be 8 a.m. to 11:30 a.m.

During Centennial Week any West Olive area man over 21 not sporting a beard is subject to a fine, and similarly, any woman over 21 not wearing an old-fashioned costume will also be fined.

The beards will be judged at a beard contest at the Saturday night festivities. Theron R. Stone is master of ceremonies for the evening program which includes old fashioned music, a kitchen band, a fashion show and old fashioned clothing contest. The program begins at 7:45.

Postmaster Polich has received a congratulatory telegram from Rep. Guy Vander Jagt noting the 100-year anniversary of the founding of the community post office.

The present one-room office adjacent to the home of Mrs. Polich is not the original building and, in fact, the original site is not known. Before West Olive had an official office a mail exchange operated through the old Norton stagecoach stop which still stands across the street from the present postal building.

Now the post office serves an area of about 2100 square miles including parts of Port Sheldon, Olive and Grand Haven, Townships, and parts of Allendale and Robinson. There are over 2,000 homes in the delivery area.

Mrs. Polich is the 13th postmaster to serve in these 100 years. She has the distinction of having held the position the longest with a record of 30 years. The last postmaster, Mrs. Pamela Shearer, had the second longest record with 19 years.

In a recent interview, Mrs. Polich pointed out differences in the kind of business that is handled by the post office now and the problems she encountered when she first took over the post.

She took over the job in November when, before having had a chance to learn the ropes, she suddenly found herself swamped with 80 boxes of Thanksgiving turkey shipments. The largest shipments that she handles now are for blueberries and evergreen seedlings.

Mrs. Polich feels that the smaller office in a small community allows the service to be more personal. To illustrate that opinion she listed some of the services she has rendered that might not be included in a postmaster's usual duties.

She has read and written letters for elderly people who could not do it for themselves and even filled out mail-order catalog orders for them. She has made out wills, helped one to be released from prison, helped some to obtain citizenship papers and notarized car registrations. During the war her duties included checking price control in grocery stores and heading government bond drives.

One of the most unusual experiences during the time she has been postmaster, occurred about 14 years ago when a baby was found by a mail carrier abandoned in a mailbox. The child was placed in a foster home by authorities.

The West Olive Post Office is also important as a clearing house for information in the local area. As a focal point of the community it is fitting that a celebration should mark its birthday.
